NEW SALE TIME Commercial Female Sale

FRIDAY | APRIL 24 | 12:00 NOON

Many of the females selling are mates to the steers harvested or are out of dams who are mates to the steers we have harvested over the years. We think that is impressive and a testament to the quality present in this offering of commercial females and to our relentless pursuit of excellence in both our registered and our commercial beef production.

We continue to utilize all tools available to give our customers the edge when it comes to beef production. You will note that a big portion of these females are selling with AI calves at side by some of the top calving ease, big performing bulls the Brangus breed has to offer and they are from Cavender Ranches. Bulls that are proven in the pasture and on the rail. They will be calving in a narrow window and the resulting offspring will perform and we have the proof to back it up. The sires utilized all have genomically enhanced EPDs and generations of data behind them. This is just another way to provide you with the  advantage.

We are proud of the commercial females in this offering and feel they will be a long-lasting asset generating increased productivity for their new owners. While we are intent on providing the new owners with truly superior calves at side resulting from our matings, we encourage you to castrate the male calves because, while superior to industry norms, they do not have the generations of registered data behind them necessary to move our industry forward and to compete with other protein sources for today's consumer dollar.

HOW THEY WILL SELL

We will video the commercial sale cattle in the big groups they are running in on the ranch weeks prior to the sale and will post that online to allow you to preview the offering. Sale week after sorting and penning the offering in uniform pens of 3 to 6 head, we will video each pen selling just as we did in our March offering. We will produce a run sheet with tag numbers and exact descriptions and sale order of the heifers selling. You will be bidding on the actual cattle in the pens and on the sale videos at the sale.
